Company

ABOUT

Chunky Move and is one of the most influential contemporary dance companies in Australia. Under the creative leadership of Artistic Director Antony Hamilton, Chunky Move creates bold, visually striking and genre defying dance works that merge the body with other artistic mediums. Our works interact with varied spaces and presentation contexts and are underpinned by an ethos of collaboration and experimentation. Artists and audiences are at the heart of Chunky Move and our partnerships and projects aim to increase the visibility of contemporary dance as an everyday artform. We are deeply committed to fostering an inclusive and accessible environment for our artists, audiences, staff and volunteers and we are invested in the growth and diversity of audiences for dance in Australia.

Chunky Move is a not-for-profit company and is supported by the Victorian Government through Creative Victoria, the Commonwealth Government through the Australia Council and by the City of Melbourne through its ACIP program.

HISTORY

Chunky Move was founded by Artistic Director, Gideon Obarzanek and Executive Producer, Angharad Wynne-Jones in 1995. The company quickly established itself as one of Australia's most innovative, awarded and recognised performing arts companies, setting an early precedent for Australia by eschewing an ensemble model and embedding artistic reinvention. Under the Artistic Directorship of acclaimed Dutch choreographer, Anouk Van Dijk (2012 – 2018), Chunky Move continued to provide creative exploration for audiences, dancers and collaborators. In December 2018, Antony Hamilton, Kristy Ayre and Freya Waterson were appointed to lead the company providing an invigorated artistic and organisational capacity to evolve Chunky Move for a new generation of artists and audiences.
